CLIENT HIGHLIGHT
Nichol
When Nichol was no longer able to juggle her full-time work while also coordinating care for her twin boys, who are both dually diagnosed with autism and behavioral issues, she became their full-time care giver. Without a steady income, her family was forced to move into an extended stay motel, and Nichol worked odd jobs to try to meet their financial needs. In her search for additional supportive services, Nichol found Our House’s homelessness prevention program. Working with her case manager, Nichol was able to receive help finding housing and transportation and coordinating medical care. With this additional support, Nichol was able to return to work full-time in the medical field, advocate for her boys to receive the services they need to thrive, and move her family into their new home!
